THOSE TAKEN BY HAND OF DEATH

Body of Dr. Harpster, who Died in Philadelphia on Wednesday, to be Buried here on Saturday. Other Deaths.

DANIEL C. SMITH

David C. Smith died at his home at Edgegrove, at 12 10 p. m. Wednesday, after a week's illness with kidney trouble. He was aged 74 years, 2 months and 23 days.

He was a son of the late Anthony Smith, of near Bonneville, and was united in marriage in 1861, to Miss Cecelia Spalding, of Littlestown, who died three years ago. Mr. Smith was a well known musician, having been organist at Conewago Chapel for over 25 years.

He is survived by two sons, Paul A. Smith of Holy Cross College, Worcester, Mass., and Mark J. Smith, a scholastic at Woodstock College, Md., and three daughters—Mrs. Patrick Hanley, of Towson, Md.; Misses May M. and Helen A. Smith, at home. He is also survived by four brothers—Thaddeus Smith, of McSherrystown; Frank Smith, of near Bonneville; Joseph Smith, of Mt. Savage, Md. and John Smith, of Dayton, Ohio, and one sister, Mrs. William Colton, of Baltimore.

Funeral, Saturday, February 4, from Conewago Chapel. Solemn High Mass at 9 a. m. and interment in Conewago Chapel Cemetery. Rev. Germanus Koni officiating.

DR. JOHN HENRY HARPSTER

The Rev. Dr. John Henry Harpster, well known in Gettysburg, died early Wednesday morning from grip at the residence of his brother-in-law, Dr. Henry E. Jacobs, Mt. Airy, Philadelphia.

Dr. Harpster was born at Centre Hall, this state, April 27, 1843, the son of George and Frances Harpster. His education was interrupted by the Civil War, through which he served. He was captain and staff officer of the Second Corps, Army of the Potomac. He was dangerously wounded in battle twice.

After the war he resumed his schooling at institutions in Selinsgrove and Gettysburg Wittenberg College, Springfield, Ohio, conferred the degree of D. D. upon him in 1893. He married Julia, daughter of Professor Michael Jacobs, of Gettysburg, in 1892.

He was ordained to the Lutheran ministry in 1871, and from 1872 to 1876 he was missionary at Guntur, India. Impaired health led to his return to his country.

He resided for a time in California and was pastor of churches in Ellsworth and Hayes City, Kansas; Trenton, New Jersey; and Canton, Ohio. He re-entered foreign missionary work in 1893.

In 1902 the Board of Foreign Missions of the General Council having asked the Board of General Synod to release him in order to reorganize the mission of the latter at Rajahmundry in India, he accepted the difficult position, and, after seven years successful labor, returned to this country in 1909. Since his return he has been almost incessantly occupied with presenting the cause of foreign missions in all parts of the North, from the Atlantic to the Pacific.

Funeral from the 1.45 p. m. train over the Reading Saturday. Interment in Evergreen Cemetery. Dr. J. A. Singmaster officiating.

WILLIAM J. AUMEN

William J. Aumen died early Tuesday morning at the Allentown hospital, aged 66 years, from congestion of the brain after a three weeks' illness.

He was born near Littlestown, the son of Barnard and Margaret Aumen. For many years he was with the Crown Drill Works of Harrisburg, as a traveling salesman. He was twice married. His first wife was Miss Jennie Rider, of near Gettysburg. His second wife, who was Miss Rosa Hemler, survives with four children. The following brothers and sisters survive, Francis, of Gettysburg; Edward and Sylvester, of Littlestown; Cornelius, of York; Mrs. Samuel Rinsel, of Lebanon; Mrs. Kate Kuhn, of near Littlestown; Mrs. Lucinda Stansbury, of Littlestown; Mrs. Jacob Muhm, of Centennial.

Mr. Aumen was a member of St. Francis Xavier church and St. Francis Xavier Beneficial Society, of Gettysburg.

The body will be brought to the home of James B. Aumen on West Middle street on the 1.45 train over the Reading Friday afternoon. Funeral from Mr. Aumen's home at 9.30 Saturday morning. High mass at St. Francis Xavier church at 10 o'clock and interment in the Catholic cemetery.

POTASH is a soil necessity. Don't put it off, put it on. Potash always pays. Oyler and Spangler, Gettysburg, want to quote you prices.

NO NECESSITY FOR RIOT CLUBS

Gettysburg is to see no more mid-winter class fights on the streets of town between the first and second year men at college, the two lower classes at the instance of the Student Council having decided to lay aside the time honored custom of trying to frustrate each other in attempts to hold their annual banquets.

The fights have always excited much interest in town and banquet nights always saw many people on the streets to watch the fun. Last year the struggle grew into a free-for-all fight on Chambersburg street and a number of the participants received more or less serious wounds, some being troubled from their injuries for several months after the affair occurred.

The town council followed this with a motion authorizing the establishment of a force of special police armed with riot clubs to quell any further disturbances by college students on the streets.

The "Weekly Gettysburgian" in commenting on the abolishment of the custom which prevails in most of the colleges in this part of the state says:

"The old time class banquet fights have always been quite in evidence during the winter term. In effect they have been the cause of no little suffering and disappointment on the part of those participating. They have also been a matter of great concern to the town authorities. Gettysburgians will remember the special action of the borough council in providing a force of twenty special policemen, provided with the formidable and now famous 'riot clubs' to quell such disturbances. By far the worst effect of such class banquet fights come from the blood curdling accounts of them as told in the newspapers of eastern Pennsylvania. Such accounts were often read with wide-open astonishment by those witnessing the affair and their effect upon those unfamiliar with the circumstances must have been such as to make Pennsylvania College notorious for the barbarous ferocity of the class banquet fights."

TEACHERS' MEETING

The second educational meeting of the teachers of Mt. Joy township, was held Saturday afternoon at Oak Grove school, with the following named teachers present: Messrs. Warfield Collins, Edward Weikert and Amos Collins, Misses Ruby Walker and Oma B. Straley. Also the following directors, Messrs. Scott, Sherman, Miller and Waybright. The topics discussed were, "Trials of a Teacher," J. Warfield Collins and Miss Oma Straley; "A Teacher's Duty toward his School," Amos Collins, Rev. P. T. Stockslager, Warfield Collins, Mervin Miller and Edward Weikert; "Importance of Holding Examinations, Tests and Reviews," Edward Weikert, Rev. Mr. Stockslager and Mr. Miller. Recitations were given by Helen Miller, Raymond Foulk, Rhoda Hartman, Marie Reck, Anna Hartman, Marie Hull, Hugh Hartman, Sarah Foulk, Robert Snyder, Warren Snyder, Sarah Willet, Dalbert Spangler, Lloyd Spangler, Grace Spangler, Iva Kindig, Rhoda Conover and Rhoda Hartman.

LIVE BIRD MATCH

A live bird match was held at Guernsey on Wednesday, ten birds being shot off each round. The scores made were as follows:

First round, Aaron Schlosser 10, R. C. Walters 6, Ernest Trostle 8, Emmert Leatherman 6, John Wolf 7, James Mauss 7, Charles Raffensperger 2, William McCans 8.

Second round, Aaron Schlosser 7, R. C. Walters 5, Ernest Trostle 4, Emmert Leatherman 7, John Wolf 6, James Mauss 4, William McCans 5.

The match was very successful under the management of Mr. McCans who takes great pleasure in affording amusement to the Guernsey gunners who greatly appreciate his kindness.

ACCIDENTS

Ralph Howe, a five year old son of Mr. and Mrs. A. E. Howe, of Latimore township, on Sunday afternoon stuck the forefinger of his left hand in a cuttingbox and pressed down the lever cutting off the finger at the second joint. Dr. E. W. Cashman dressed the injury.

The Gettysburg Gas Company has quite an attractive display in their show window on Baltimore street. It will make you hungry to see it.

RED MEN HELD LARGE POW WOW

Hampton was the scene of a large gathering of Red Men on Tuesday evening when members of the order from East Berlin, New Oxford and Hanover accompanied by Great Sachem, Wm. H. Long, "struck the trail" and "smoked the pipe of peace," in the wigwag of Kanawha Tribe, No. 452.

The Hanover degree team, under the direction of Chief Paul E. Nichman, in fifteen "palefaces" captured in the forests of Hampton hunting grounds, into the mysteries of Red-manship.

After the work of initiation, the Great Sachem exemplified the unwritten work of the order, and gave an interesting and instructive talk on the principles of Red-manship. He also told of the numerical progress now being made by the order, not only in the reservation of Pennsylvania, but throughout the United States. A week ago in Philadelphia, an army of over 3000 men were taken into the various tribes in that city, being the largest number ever known to have been added to a fraternal order at any one time.

The Great Sachem also conferred the Past Sachem's degree on a number of chiefs.

At the end of the pow-wow, the visiting brethren were led to the Hampton Hotel, where a bountiful repast was served by Landlord Bushman.

LOST TO PENN

The University of Pennsylvania won a slow and uninteresting basketball game from Gettysburg Wednesday night in the Red and Blue Gymnasium, 29 to 15. Penn outclassed the local men even more than the score indicates, but they fouled so continuously that the Gettysburg boys were able to keep within hailing distance. The total of fouls called against Penn was 22, a season's record, and this succession of lulls in the play made the game uninteresting. Gettysburg did not cage a single field goal till the second half was well under way and then scored only three. Diehl for Gettysburg shot only five goals from fouls out of a possible twelve. Brumbaugh missed six out of ten chances.

FOUND LOST RING

Seven years ago Mrs. Harry Miller, of Latimore township, lost a gold band ring in a peculiar manner. She went out to the barn to milk one evening and placed the ring in a niche in the barn wall. Several geese came around and noticing the bright object pecked it out and then cast it in a lot of litter. A thorough search was made for the jewelry but it could not be found. One day recently a little daughter of George Harbold found the ring just outside the barnyard gate and near the place where it was lost. The ring was not even tarnished and Mrs. Miller was rejoiced to recover it.

CASHIER HAS ACCIDENT

Edward M. Bender, cashier of the Gettysburg National Bank, met with a painful accident Wednesday afternoon when closing one of the large vault doors at the bank. The thumb on his right hand got caught in a portion of the mechanism of the heavy door which had failed to work properly and the end of the member was mashed off about three quarters of the length of the nail.

BUGGY UPSET

Clarence Diehl, of near Hanover, and Miss Daisy Sillik, of near Biglerville, while driving on the road last Sunday from Biglerville to Heidersburg church, had an unpleasant experience. Rain started to fall and they turned around, about a mile from Biglerville. It was so dark they could not see the road and the buggy got into the high side drain and upset. Both were thrown out, and fortunately escaped unhurt. The shafts of the buggy were broken, but there was no other damage. Mr. Diehl went to a neighboring farm, hired a buggy and took Miss Sillik home.

THE FLAMING ARROW

The Flaming Arrow which appears at Walter's Theatre Monday, February 6 is a gem of dramatic art in five acts. The play has a simple theme, yet vigorous in thought and has those touches of human nature that appeal to all classes. There is no mawkish sentiment in the lines or action. No strain for dramatic effects. A fine, delightful story, characters alive and real. The play is strong in interest, the thoughts purely American and captivate the applause of all audiences.

(CHICAGO CHRONICLE) The youthful Prima Donna is the latest wonder that Chicago has developed. She is Miss Bessie Andrus, discovered by Hull House Woman's Club. The compass and quality of her voice is declared to be simply marvelous, resembling the wonderful voice of Jennie Lind more than any other singer heard of in recent years. Her voice is a high lyric soprano of the very finest qualities, and her greatest charm, aside from the sweetness of her voice, is the grace and abandon with which she sings.

SHE WANTS INDIAN HUSBAND

Billings, Mont., Feb. 2.—Apparently determined to link her fate with that of Plenty Hawk, a full blooded Indian of the Crow reservation, Madeline Sullivan, of Chicago, aged eighteen years, arrived in Billings and made an unsuccessful effort to procure a license to wed the Indian.

She was informed that it would be impossible for the clerk to issue the license to her, that Plenty Hawk would have to apply for it, and that even in that event it would not be forthcoming unless he was fortified with the written permission of the superintendent of the agency. It was the plan of the girl to get the license, return to the agency and be married.

VOLCANO KILLED 700 IN TALISAY ALONE

5000 Families Have Been Ruined by Disaster.

Washington, Feb. 2.—The eruption of Taal volcano and the accompanying disturbances in the Philippines killed 700 people in the town of Talisay, according to the report of the governor of Batangas province, which was cabled to the war department by Governor General Forbes, of the Philippine Islands. The earthquake shocks continue, the governor added.

Five thousand families have been ruined by the disaster. The Philippine authorities are face to face with the absolute necessity of adopting relief measures in order to avoid suffering, as the falling mud and lava destroyed the crops within a considerable radius of the volcano. The Red Cross society in the islands is taking steps toward that end.

EXTRA SESSION TALK REVIVED

President Cancels All Southern Dates But One.

CLEAR DECKS FOR ACTION

Democrats of House Said to Be Favorable to Reciprocity Bill, But Senate May "Talk It to Death."

Washington, Feb. 2.—President Taft's announcement that the southern tour which he had planned to take the early part of next month would be cancelled, with the exception of the visit to Atlanta on March 10, started political tongues to wagging with rumors to the effect that his purpose was to prepare for a possible extra session of congress in case the present session fails to enact the reciprocity agreement between the United States and Canada, which the president is urging strongly as legislation needed by both countries.

Pressure of business and the fact that numerous invitations to visit many places in the south were making the tour which had been planned assume too large proportions, are the reasons assigned at the White House for the president's cancellation of the trip.

It is believed in many quarters, however, that Mr. Taft is clearing the decks of all but absolutely necessary engagements, so that in case he should find it impossible to get his reciprocity measure through this session he can be prepared for an extra session. He has said that he hopes to see it passed before March 4.

Fears have been expressed that the senate will "talk the measure to death" or kill it in some other way, although it is believed the house, probably with the aid of Democrats, will pass it.

If this should be the case, the president will feel, it is said, that he can depend on a Democratic house, such as would exist after March 4, to support him in his efforts to pass this legislation, which he looks upon as one of the most important measures the present administration has urged. An extra session would force action on the question, with the chances apparently in favor of the president getting his reciprocity legislation.

Having promised a long time ago to address the convention of the Southern Commercial Congress in Atlanta on the night of March 10, the president was unwilling to cancel this important engagement, especially as it would take him away from Washington for only two days.

ADMIRAL SPERRY DEAD

Washington, Feb. 2.—Rear Admiral Charles S. Sperry, retired, who piloted the battleship fleet around the world in 1908-09, died suddenly at the Naval Medical School hospital here of pneumonia.

Rear Admiral Sperry had been ill only a day or so. He was sixty-three years of age, having been born at Brooklyn, N. Y., Sept. 3, 1847, entering the navy in 1862.

He reached the rank of rear admiral in 1906, and retired at the age of sixty-two in 1909.

Admiral Sperry's death was a great shock to his fellow officers in the navy and a blow to the state department, which had counted much upon his assistance in perfecting a translation of what is known as the declaration of London.

Admiral Sperry was graduated from the naval academy in 1866. He reached the rank of rear admiral on May 6, 1906.

JURY HAGGLES LONG OVER LETTER SHE WROTE, BUT FINALLY DECIDES.

Holidaysburg, Pa., Feb. 2.—Miss Frances Brumbaugh was awarded $1650 damages by a jury in the Blair county court in her suit against George C. Kelchner, of Altoona, for breach of promise to marry.

The jury was out eighteen hours, the prolonged deliberations being due to a difference of opinion on a letter written by the girl to her lover in which she declared: "Go home. I don't care if you never come back."

Some of the jurors regarded this declaration as a temporary lovers' quarrel, while others asserted it meant the release of Kelchner from his marriage engagement.

Flames Imperil Hospital Patients.

Altoona, Pa., Feb. 2.—A score of patients and nurses had their lives imperiled when fire damaged the Mercy hospital in this city. A man passing the hospital discovered the roof on fire and notified the head nurse. Summoning help, the patients were quickly taken out of the building. Two women on the third floor were carried out on stretchers.

Slayer of Woman Put to Death.

Danemora, Feb. 2.—Samuel Ford, a negro, was electrocuted in Clinton prison for the murder of Capt. Ash, a colored woman with whom he was living at Browns Station, Ulster county. He went to his death calmly and without confessing.

BIG DEMAND ON TREASURY

Bills in the Pennsylvania Legislature Would Appropriates $100,000,000.

Harrisburg, Pa., Feb. 2.—While the state senate is playing the role of idleness, the house keeps on the job. The senate holds one session a week, or, if it is in extra fine fettle, two. It adjourned until next Monday.

Easily the most important question before the house was the Alter bill, which is aimed to straighten out the wrinkles in the recently adopted constitutional amendments and which was reported out of committee.

The measure would extend the terms of some 30,000 office holders in the state thirty days. Seven of those it would affect are judges of various courts. In this connection the bill is in direct opposition to the opinion given several weeks ago by John G. Johnson, of Philadelphia, regarding the effect of the constitutional amendments on the judges. The Alter bill has the backing of the state department and was approved by Attorney General John C. Bell.

The demands made upon the state treasury are now approaching the $15,000,000 stage and, if the present flood of bills continues, the total requests for state money is expected to exceed $100,000,000.

There has been a tabulation of the bills and there are bills with the committee on appropriations amounting to $7,167,240.70. The judges salary bill carrying an increase annually of $463,000, is not in the hands of the committee on appropriations.

The principal items in the compilation, which does not include bills introduced this week, are: State institutions, $2,044,571.26; semi-state institutions, $656,700; hospitals, $2,875,107.16; homes and sanatoria, $607,000; normal schools, $105,000; monuments, $86,447.91; state experimental farm, $50,000; supplement to appropriation bill, $697,414.38, and miscellaneous, $45,000.

SEARS CONVICTED OF KILLING AGED COUPLE

Negro Who Slew Rev. and Mrs. Armstrong Found Guilty.

Trenton, N. J., Feb. 2.—Within one hour and fifteen minutes after the case of the state against John Sears, a mulatto, for the murder of Rev. Dr. and Mrs. Amzi L. Armstrong, went to the jury in the Mercer county court here. Sears had been sentenced to die in the electric chair. It was the ending of one of the most remarkable murder trials in the criminal history of the county.

On the night before last Thanksgiving the half-breed shot down the aged couple in cold blood in their home in Dutch Neck. As a result of the popularity and esteem in which the victims were held the court room has each day been too small to hold the enormous crowds.

Sears' conduct has been that of a person who had not a care in the world. Even on the day when he must have known that the death chair awaited him he acted in a manner that was mystifying. Prosecutor William J. Crossley referred to Sears as a "hellhound" and in similar terms, but the man just smiled and kept on amusing himself like a child at play.

LIFTED BY KITES

Naval Officer Ascends 400 Feet From Warship Deck.

The warship was steaming twelve knots against an eight-knot breeze at the time, and Rodgers, suspended from the kite cable 100 feet astern, made observations and camera views for fifteen minutes. He signalled the results of his observations to the officers of the ship. The altitude attained by Rodgers is said to be a record for man-lifting kites. The officer was carried up by a train of eleven kites.

Chicago's Budget For 1911.

Chicago, Feb. 2.—Chicago's budget for 1911, as prepared by the council committee on finance, calls for $49,440,000. Of this sum $13,500,000 will go to the board of education.

TERRIFIC BLAST ROCKS NEW YORK

30 DEAD; HUNDREDS HURT

Buildings Shaken, Windows Shattered and People Thought It Was an Earthquake, and Panic Almost Followed.

New York, Feb. 2.—Forty tons of dynamite exploded on the Jersey water front in the middle of 5,000,000 people and 5,000,000 things happened. Radiating from the North river end of pier No. 7 in the Jersey Central's freight terminal in Communipaw, the concussion rocked Manhattan from end to end. Jersey trembled for many miles back of the marshes. Away out in Long Island people started up in trembling buildings and thought it was an earthquake. Everywhere the skyscrapers vibrated and spilled window glass into the streets.

In the immediate neighborhood of the explosion the destruction was so complete that it was not to be determined the number of the killed or the precise reason a car load of dynamite and a quantity stored in two lighters let go. It is probable that thirty men lost their lives and that twenty-five of these were blown to pieces near the pier end.

A Deafening Roar.

Suddenly there came a roar that overwhelmed all the little noises of New York harbor, a crushing, terrifying wave of sound like all of the great guns of all the forts letting off in company.

Then there was a slight interval of dead silence, in which people waited for something else to happen. And the momentary quiet was followed by a multitude of noises—the crashing of falling glass, the rattle and clang of iron girders swinging loose and battering the sides of piers, a squeaking and grinding of disturbed buildings settling back into place, and the shrieks and cries of hundreds of people who had been injured by the rain of missiles or who cried out in their fear.

It was several minutes before the railroad men in the terminal understood exactly what had occurred. After they had climbed out of the heaped up debris, their first business was to care for the commuters, who were running about aimlessly, with blood running from the glass cuts on cheek and head, and for their own men who had been injured in the upheaval of glass and iron and splinters.

A Scene of Devastation.

Trainmen looked out toward the end of pier No. 7 and saw that 200 feet of the solid pier set pier had been bitten off short, so that the splintered edges of beams projected over black water; that a whole car of dynamite had vanished along with the pier end; that another car containing cases of dynamite in sticks had been ripped to pieces, spilling dynamite over the debris; that two big lighters, the Katherine W. and the Whistler, that had been taking on dynamite for the Dupont de Nemours company, were gone, and that the ships and lighters and barges laid up by the piers were piled with wreckage, and that wherever their eyes traveled along the water front of the terminal there was nothing but a mass of wreckage. There was not a spark of fire anywhere.

All the way up through the terminal from the riverside men were lying against box cars or sitting somewhere in the wreckage feeling out their own injuries. Nineteen out of twenty, possibly, were bleeding from gashes in the face or head caused by a shower of splintered glass from far on high. Some were bruised from being hurled against cars or thrown head first from their chairs in the pier offices or had been knocked down by driven planks.

Up in the train shed and waiting room of the glass denuded Jersey Central depot there was a wild scene of pandemonium. Imagine a steady rain of broken glass over an acre of ground for perhaps half a minute, and imagine 300 people running for cover over that acre, and you will have a faint idea of what took place in the depot.

Doctors grabbed men and women in bunches and gave them the antiseptic dabs and adhesive plaster bandages. But there were scores who were cut more deeply than others or groined from broken bones or lay weak and helpless from the shock that had come upon them so amazingly. And so the ambulances made trip after trip, carrying folks to the hospitals.

Find Fragments of Bodies.

There were fragments of bodies here and there, a leg and an arm high up in the rigging of the Norwegian ship Ingrid; a dead man in the hold of the same ship; shattered torso among the coal piles on pier No. 9. But there were twenty-five men squarely at the center of the explosion, and not a trace of them save three mangled bodies were found. Three-quarters of a mile away the captain of the tugboat Tuohy was blown through his pilot house and killed, which made up the number of dead positively known so far.

There was hardly any doubt in the minds of the railroad men after they had talked with the barge skippers and the dock workmen who had been less than 200 yards away from the dynamite car, some of them, that all of the twenty-five men had been destroyed.

KING GEORGE.

The violence of the explosion clouded its cause. The men who might have told a straight story were dead and the dynamite had taken care of other evidence. Theories and stories passed wildly all through the yards. The railroad men agreed that there was a preliminary explosion either of a boiler or of escaped gasoline on board the lighter Whistler or on the lighter Katherine W.—an explosion which instantly set off the dynamite loaded in their holds and still on board one box car.

The concussion set off fire alarms in many parts of the financial district of New York, and the clatter of fire apparatus and the shrill shrieks of the fire engine sirens added to the confusion. Men and women swarmed out of the buildings, some of them by the fire escape route, and added to the confusion.

CONVICTED OF LIBELLING KING

Editor Is Sentenced to One Year's Imprisonment.

MONARCH MAKES DENIAL

Edward F. Mylius Is Found Guilty of Slandering British Ruler After a Brief Trial.

London, Feb. 2.—After brief proceedings a special jury before Lord Chief Justice Alverstone cleared King George of imputations against his personal character by finding Edward F. Mylius guilty of circulating a libel. Mylius was sentenced to one year's imprisonment.

After sentence had been passed Sir Rufus read a letter signed by King George and authorizing the attorney general to state publicly that the writer had never been married except to Queen Mary; had never gone through a ceremony of marriage except with the queen; and that he would have attended the proceedings to give evidence to this effect except for the advice of the law officers of the crown that it would be unconstitutional for him to do so.

Mylius was charged with distributing in England copies of the Liberator, a Paris publication, edited by Edward H. James, and in which it was alleged that his majesty, while Prince of Wales, had contracted a morganatic marriage with the elder daughter of Admiral Sir Michael Seymour at Malta in 1890.

The crown called the admiral as a witness, and he testified that the daughter in question, now the wife of Captain Napier, of the British navy, had never seen his majesty until 1898, when the king called upon the witness at Portsmouth.

His only other daughter died in 1895, and for three years preceding her death had been with her father at Malta, where he was commander-in-chief of the Mediterranean squadron. The king had not visited Malta while his daughters were there, and the younger daughter had never spoken to him.

Admiral Seymour was followed in the witness box by his daughter, Mrs. Napier. She testified that she married Captain Napier in 1899, and had never been married previously.

The marriage registers of Malta were produced, showing that no one by the name of Seymour had been married there between 1886 and 1903. This closed the case for the prosecution. Mylius did not cross-examine any of the witnesses.

The prosecution was conducted by Sir Rufus Isaacs, the attorney general, assisted by Sir John A. Simon, solicitor general, and Attorneys Royal and Muir.

Mylius had no counsel. He sought to have the king subpoenaed as a witness, but this was refused on constitutional grounds. He then demanded the king's presence in the court room, asserting that he could not be legally tried in the absence of his accuser.

Lord Chief Justice Alverstone ruled against the defendant, declaring that the defendant knew perfectly well that under the constitution his majesty could not be present.

Stomach Remedy

Guaranteed by The People's Drug Store.

If your stomach is weak and constantly upset, you must quickly do one of two things.

Allow the rest of your body to become as weak as your stomach. Or make your stomach as strong as your body.

There is only one choice for those who want to live and enjoy life, and that is to make the stomach as strong as the body.

This can best be done by using the prescription of a specialist that in years of practice gave immediate relief and permanent cure to 95 per cent of people who used it.

This prescription is known from coast to coast as M-I-O-N-A.

M-I-O-N-A stomach tablets, most people call them, are guaranteed by The People's Drug Store to cure indigestion (acute or chronic) or any upset condition of the stomach, or money back.

In five minutes they give relief from heartburn, acid stomach, gas on stomach, belching of sour food, fermentation, heartburn and waterbrash.

If you suffer from stomach trouble get a large 50 cent box of M-I-O-N-A stomach tablets to-day and put yourself on the road of health. At The People's Drug Store and leading druggists everywhere.

TRAPPED BENEATH RIVER; TEN DROWN

Newark, N. J., Feb. 2.—Rescuers succeeded in recovering the bodies of ten colored men who lost their lives in a caisson accident in the Passaic river here.

It is believed that there is another body in the death trap, that of Robert Boyd, who is missing. His brother is among the dead taken out.

When the bodies were taken out they bore evidence of a desperate struggle in the chamber on the river bottom. The crew was at work under a derrick that was being operated from a scow that was anchored between the caisson and the Newark bank of the stream. In its descent the bucket struck the caisson shell and crashed through, releasing the air pressure.

Immediately the water swept into the chamber where the men were building a foundation for the new bridge. A rush for the caisson entrance, a three-foot steel pipe through which the men had descended several hours before, followed, but only two of the fourteen of the crew got out in safety.

Too Hot For Hogs.

Marysville, Kan., Feb. 2.—It was so warm here Wednesday that farmers who delivered hogs were compelled to sprinkle them with water on the way to town. Two farmers lost hogs, which became overheated in the wagons and died. The temperature was 70 degrees.

Leg Grows After Accident.

Seranton, Pa., Feb. 2.—Doctors are puzzled by the case of Arthur Mills, of Euclid avenue, whose leg was grown two inches longer as the result of a hip dislocation. It is since he has been up and around that the leg has been growing and it will make him a life cripple.

Honduras Troops Flee the Capital.

Puerto Cortez, Honduras, Feb. 2.—With the evacuation of Puerto Cortez by the government troops the followers of Manuel Bonilla, leader of the revolutionists, gain control of the entire Atlantic coast of Honduras. American officers are in charge of the city.

New York Deadlock Holds.

Albany, N. Y., Feb. 2.—No choice was made on the thirteenth ballot for United States senator here. Sheehan still leads.

HER FAST ENDS

Shipley Girl Decides She Is Only a Mortal After All.

Pittsburg, Pa., Feb. 2.—Margaret Shipley, of McKeesport, who has been heralded as a "second Messiah," who was to evangelize the world, heal the sick and lame, and perform many other miracles, who has been fasting for eight days in the belief that her eyesight would be restored, is slowly realizing she has been the victim of a hallucination, and that she is composed of ordinary clay.

The blind girl's fast ended Tuesday. It was without incident, save that Miss Shipley, who claimed to have been in a trance for the greater part of the time during the last eight days, expressed a strong desire for something substantial to eat. It was given her—a liberal portion of milk toast, poached eggs and coffee.

Favor Limited Parcels Post.

Washington, Feb. 2.—The senate committee on postoffices and post roads has practically agreed to a limited parcels post. An amendment will be inserted in the bill authorizing the postmaster general to expend at least $100,000 in experimenting to determine the cost and feasibility of carrying in the mails parcels not exceeding eleven pounds.

Lincoln's Old Church to Be Torn Down

Springfield, Ill., Feb. 2.—St. John's German Lutheran church, in which Abraham Lincoln worshiped, and in which he maintained a pew for many years, is to be torn down. The pew occupied by Lincoln will be preserved and made a part of the furnishings of the new church which is to replace the old.

Two Miners Fall 150 Feet.

Mahoney City, Pa., Feb. 2.—Overcome by gas fumes near the mouth of the Gilbert colliery's slope, John Strange and John Good, miners, tumbled to the bottom, a distance of 150 feet. Good's body in its descent bounced like a rubber ball as it neared the bottom. Both men are likely to die.

WYETH'S SAGE AND SULPHUR HAIR REMEDY

One Great Reason Why This Great Hair Beautifier and Color Restorer Produces Such Remarkable Results

Sulphur is a Natural Element of the Hair

When there is not a sufficient amount of sulphur in the hair, it loses its life, color and strength, turns gray, and falls out. There are many forms of sulphur, but only one kind that is suitable for treatment of the hair and scalp, and that is the kind used in preparing WYETH'S SAGE AND SULPHUR HAIR REMEDY.

We Have the Secret, and We Give You the Benefit of It at an Exceedingly Low Price

For two or three years my hair had been falling out and getting quite thin, until the top of my head was entirely bald. About four months ago I commenced using Sage and Sulphur. The first bottle seemed to do some good and I kept using it regularly, until now I have used four bottles. The whole top of my head is now fairly covered with hair, and it keeps coming in thicker. I shall keep on using it a while longer, as I notice a constant improvement.

FIGHTING BEE DISEASES.

Work of Department of Agriculture in Keeping Down Pests.

The honeybee annually produces a crop of honey worth at least $20,000,000, and there are vast opportunities for increasing this output. The most serious handicap to beekeeping in the United States is the fact that there are contagious diseases which attack the brood of the honeybee. There are now recognized two such diseases, known as American foul brood and European foul brood. From data recently obtained by the United States department of agriculture it is known that American foul brood exists in 282 counties in thirty-seven states and European foul brood in 160 counties in twenty-four states, and it is estimated conservatively that these diseases are causing a loss to the beekeepers of the United States of at least $1,000,000 annually. This estimate is based on the probable value of the colonies which die and the approximate loss of crop due to the weakened condition of diseased colonies. The distribution of these diseases is by no means fully known, and they are constantly spreading.

The cause of American foul brood has been found by the department to be a specific bacterium, and enough is known of the cause and nature of European foul brood, which is also a bacterial disease, to make it possible to issue reliable recommendations concerning treatment for both diseases. Both attack the developing brood, and

AMONG THE HIVES. as the adult bees die from old age or other causes the colony becomes depleted since there are not enough young bees emerging to keep up the numbers. When the colony becomes weak bees from other colonies enter to rob the honey, and the infection is spread.

Both of these diseases can be controlled with comparative ease by the progressive beekeeper, but the chief difficulty encountered in combating these diseases is the fact that the majority of beekeepers are unaware that any such diseases exist. They therefore often attribute their losses to other sources and nothing is done to prevent the spread of the infection. It is therefore necessary in most cases to point out the existence and nature of the diseases as well as to spread information concerning the best methods of treatment. Several states have passed laws providing for the inspection of apiaries for disease, and the beekeepers in other states are asking for the same protection, so that careless or ignorant beekeepers can be prevented from endangering their neighbor's bees. This inspection is a benefit in the spread of information concerning disease in so far as the inspection can cover the territory. The department of agriculture is helping in this work by sending out publications to the beekeepers in infected regions by examining samples of brood suspected of disease and by sending out information concerning the presence of disease, so that beekeepers will be informed that their apiaries are in danger, the co-operation of agricultural colleges, state beekeepers' associations and other similar agencies being urged. Every person interested in beekeeping should find out as soon as possible how to recognize and treat these maladies and be on the lookout for them. A publication containing a discussion of the matter will be sent on request by the department of agriculture.

Watch Your Alfalfa Seed. Many farmers are willing to take risks in buying cheap alfalfa seed, which frequently contains enough weed seeds to affect the stand very seriously. Russian thistle can hardly be detected in alfalfa seed, nor can it be blown out or removed by screening and it is the same way with the dodder.

LEGALLY HANGED

By CHARLES LEWIS PHIPPS

Copyright by American Press Association, 1911.

"Which one of all your cases," I asked Wilcox, the celebrated criminal lawyer, "has most excited your interest?"

"That of Mathews, who was accused of murder."

"Was he innocent or guilty?"

"Innocent."

"Did you secure his acquittal?"

"No."

"Hanged?"

"Yes; legally hanged."

"What do you mean by that?"

"I'll tell you. Mathews was in the employ of Henderson, the man who was murdered. I don't care to go into the details of the case; I will only say that there was so much circumstantial evidence against him that from the first I despaired of saving his neck. I knew he was innocent, though he could no more explain the circumstances that pointed to his guilt than I could."

"How did you know he was innocent?"

"By both experience and intuition. I defy any of my clients to deceive me in this regard. I simply look them in the eye, and that tells me the story."

"There was everything about Mathews' case to interest me. He was a younger son of a British country gentleman and in love with the daughter of another British gentleman. His mother had no knowledge of his having been accused of crime, much less having been convicted, for I could do nothing to prove him innocent. He showed me his mother's letters, and it was distressing to read them. His betrothed was also writing him without any knowledge that he was under sentence of death. A week before he was to be hanged a letter from solicitors in England was handed him, informing him that a bachelor uncle had died and left him a large fortune."

"Upon my word! It was an interesting case, wasn't it?"

"I should say so. If ever there was a man who had everything to live for Mathews had. And to be judicially executed without ever having wronged any one in his life was simply awful. You have no idea how having a life on your hands wears on a man, and this case nearly drove me insane."

"But I braced myself for a gigantic effort. After conferring with Mathews I decided to cable the solicitors in England, giving them the situation and asking how much funds they could cable me within a few days. They placed £20,000 to my credit, and with this sum I went to work. There was no use in trying to secure delay or a new trial. What I must do was to interest the sheriff. I had a long secret conference with him, but could not move him to act for money, though I so far secured his judgment that he must do an official wrong in hanging Mathews that he consented to wink at any game I might practice, provided it could be kept secret."

"I got a friend of mine who was a professor in a medical college to apply for the body of Mathews as soon as he was dead. This enabled me to gain possession of the condemned man the moment the hanging was over. Then I 'fixed' every official who was to be present at the hanging. Mathews put in a request that there should be no spectators present. I could not even be present myself. But there was not one of the officials to whom I paid less than $10,000, and the hangman got $25,000. My friend the doctor was the only one present who got nothing. He had a coffin ready for the corpse as soon as it was taken from the gallows and a hearse to carry it to the hospital."

"Well, that night I went to the hospital and found Mathews locked in the doctor's room."

"But how was the hanging managed?"

"I don't know; I never asked. There were half a dozen men paid by the state to see that Mathews was hanged, and I paid every one of them—in all $100,000—to go through the process without hanging him. All I know is that I paid the money and found Mathews alive in the doctor's room. Some burnt cork, a woolly wig and a suit of clothes procured from a Jew tailor fixed him so that no one would know him. I had a steerage ticket for him in an outgoing steamer, and early the next morning he was on his way to England."

"He must have been very grateful to you."

"Grateful! I should say so. Before parting with me he made me promise that I would come over as soon as possible and see him. I couldn't go for a year, and then I found him in possession of £50,000 a year income and married to the woman he loved. He met me on the steamer, and the first thing he did was to impress it upon me that neither his mother nor his wife nor any one living except his solicitors knew that he was judicially dead in America. He had often tried to bring himself to unburden his secret to his wife, but had always failed."

"Mathews entertained me royally and begged me to suggest some way for him to pay the debt he owed me, even if it required every cent of his fortune. I assured him that I took more comfort in his case than in all the cases I had ever won, though I had lost it."

"After spending a month with him I left him to return. He could hardly bear to part with me and regretted that it wouldn't be safe for him to come to America or he would cross the ocean with me. He shed tears when I came away."

Give the Kidneys Help and Many Gettysburg People Will Be Happier.

"Throw Out the Life Line"—The kidneys need help. They're overworked—can't get the poison filtered out of the blood. They're getting worse every minute. Will you help them? Doan's Kidney Pills have brought thousands of kidney sufferers back from the verge of despair.

Mrs. Elizabeth Beiter, 1 Steinwehr Ave., Gettysburg, Pa., says: "I am just as willing to recommend Doan's Kidney Pills today as I was two years ago, when I publicly told of my experience with them. I was afflicted with kidney and bladder trouble and all my efforts for relief were unavailing. The kidney secretions also caused me much annoyance. Pains often shot across my body and my health was all run down. Hearing so much about Doan's Kidney Pills, I was led to get a box at the People's Drug Store and gave them a trial. They cured me and I have since enjoyed good health."
